OF THE

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

OF THE

TOWN OF LYMAN,

FOR THE

Year Ending March 1st, 1883.

SCHOOL REPORT.

DISTRICT NO. 1.

The summer term of eight weeks, taught by Miss Mattie J. Miner, was attended by seven scholars, some of them were very young and timid, but Miss Miner being of an affectionate turn soon taught them to love her and the school. Good improvement was made.

The winter term of thirteen weeks with an average of seventeen scholars, taught by Miss Hattie M. Stickney, was very interesting. The classes in reading, arithmetic, physiology and miscellaneous questions, deserve special mention. Miss Stickney is an earnest worker in the school room.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

The summer term of ten weeks, also the winter term of ten, was taught by Miss Ella M. Clough. As Miss Clough is an old teacher in this, and adjoining towns, it is only necessary to say that these schools were of her usual type.

DISTRICT NO. 3.

No summer school was held in this district. A fall term of twelve weeks, under the instruction of Lee F. English, was very successful, although Mr. English labored under the great disadvantage of having many absent and tardy scholars, yet his very thorough course of instruction made his school stand well at the close, as regards improvements.

The winter term of six weeks, now in progress, is under the instruction of Miss Anna Swasey. Miss Swasey is a very pleasant and agreeable teacher, and doing all she can to make her school a success.

DISTRICT NO. 4.

The summer term was under the instruction of Miss Hattie M. Stickney, consisting of ten weeks of very good school. In addition to the usual studies, a class in miscellaneous questions was quite interesting, also an oral recitation in physiology was commendable and profitable.

The second term of four weeks, was taught by Miss Emma M. Newcomb. As she was called away to fulfill a previous engagement at Thetford, Vt., it caused a vacation until the school in No. 6 closed, then Miss Cass took charge of this school to continue ten weeks.

Miss Cass seems to possess those sterling qualities so emphatically necessary to success in a winter school like this. Good order was one of the principal characteristics of the school. My last visit was entirely unexpected, and no reviews had been taken of studies, but good progress was being made.

DISTRICT NO. 5.

A summer term of twelve weeks, also a winter term of ten weeks, was taught by Miss Sadie A. Clough. The summer term was Miss Clough's second term at teaching, which was very successful. Her classes in geography and reading, also those attending to writing, made fine progress.

The winter term was not so successful, a lack of firmness in enforcing studious rules in school hours, seemed to be the cause of the partial failure.

DISTRICT NO. 6.

The summer term consisted of eight weeks with Miss Ella J. Moore, as teacher. This was Miss Moore's first term, and owing to her youth, inexperience and natural want of vigilance this school did not make the progress desired.

The winter term of eleven weeks was under the instruction of Miss Mary M. Cass, of Bristol. This was Miss Cass's fourth term at teaching. At the opening examination the school was quite small but at the close it showed more in number. Fine discipline and good progress was made in all the branches taught, especially that of arithmetic.

DISTRICT NO. 7.

The summer term of twelve weeks, was taught by Miss Sadie A. Travena. This was Miss Travena's third term at teaching and successful in every respect. Her manner of teaching is easy and comprehensible.

The winter term of seventeen weeks, now in progress, is also being taught by Miss Travena, with equally good success as the summer term. The best recitations in grammar and physical geography, heard during the year, were at the last examination of this school. Miss Travena seems to possess fine teaching qualities.

With two exceptions the schools of this town have been profitable and satisfactory. There are some very fine examples of scholarship among the pupils of this town. Among the names found upon the Roll of Honor are the following scholars that have neither been absent or tardy ; John F. Minaer, Susie M. Towle, Addie A. Towle, Eva Dick, Mertie Smith, Lena Steavens, Eben Carter, Freddie Steavens, Harry B. Aldrich, Leon B. Langway, Gilbert Violett, Willie Steavens, George Little, Nellie Bradford, Ralph Knapp, Lucia A. Gordon, Lulu Bell Woolson, Arthur S. Sherman, Eliza A. Hurd, Nettie J. Noyes, Fredie Mason, Walter Violett.

The average wages paid teachers in this town, in summer, including board, is $20 per month. The average paid in winter is $25 per month. By examining the reports of adjoining towns, and comparing wages paid to teachers, with our own, I find Lyman money stands from 17 to 25 per cent discount, or in other words, teachers receive from 17 to 25 per cent more for doing the same work in this town than in the adjoining towns. In considering this subject we cannot censure the teachers for demanding all the pay they can get. Yet as supporters of the common school interest we must caution our prudential committees against paying more than is paid by committees of other towns for like service.

District No. 7 had twenty-nine weeks of school the past year more than any district in town, this was done by furnishing wood and board free, and $10 were voted to this district for its school patriotism.

As District No. 6 and 7 are short of money for school purposes, it is but just that the town give them $15 each in addition to their regular school order.

The school house in District No 1 should be repaired, or a new one built before another winter. Therefore an article inserted in the next annual warning for a school meeting will not be out of place. Also an article in District No. 7 annual warning, to raise money with which to replaster the house is recommended.

The Franklin Arithmetic, introduced this year, stands at introductory and exchange prices one year from last Oct. They can be found at Lisbon Book Stores.

No money is reported as remaining with any of the Committee, and no indebtedness reported.

Respectfully Submitted,

C. E. WOOLSON, Committee.
